§ 1 Definitions

The data protection declaration of the Company is based on the terms used by the European legislator for the adoption of the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). Our data protection declaration should be legible and understandable for the general public, as well as our customers and business partners. To ensure this, we would like to first explain the terminology used.

In this data protection declaration, we use, inter alia, the following terms:

1) Personal Data

Personal data means any information relating to an identified or identifiable natural person (“data subject”). An identifiable natural person is one who can be identified, directly or indirectly, in particular by reference to an identifier such as a name, an identification number, location data, an online identifier or to one or more factors specific to the physical, physiological, genetic, mental, economic, cultural or social identity of that natural person.

2) Data Subject

Data subject is any identified or identifiable natural person, whose personal data is processed by the controller responsible for the processing.

3) Processing

Processing is any operation or set of operations which is performed on personal data or on sets of personal data, whether or not by automated means, such as collection, recording, organisation, structuring, storage, adaptation or alteration, retrieval, consultation, use, disclosure by transmission, dissemination or otherwise making available, alignment or combination, restriction, erasure or destruction.

4) Restriction of processing

Restriction of processing is the marking of stored personal data with the aim of limiting their processing in the future.

5) Profiling

Profiling means any form of automated processing of personal data consisting of the use of personal data to evaluate certain personal aspects relating to a natural person, in particular to analyze or predict aspects concerning that natural person's performance at work, economic situation, health, personal preferences, interests, reliability, behavior, location or movements.

6) Pseudonymisation

Pseudonymisation is the processing of personal data in such a manner that the personal data can no longer be attributed to a specific data subject without the use of additional information, provided that such additional information is kept separately and is subject to technical and organizational measures to ensure that the personal data are not attributed to an identified or identifiable natural person.

7) Controller or controller responsible for the processing

Controller or controller responsible for the processing is the natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body which, alone or jointly with others, determines the purposes and means of the processing of personal data; where the purposes and means of such processing are determined by Union or Member State law, the controller or the specific criteria for its nomination may be provided for by Union or Member State law.

8) Processor

Processor is a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or other body, which processes personal data on behalf of the controller.

9) Recipient

Recipient is a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or another body, to which the personal data are disclosed, whether a third party or not. However, public authorities which may receive personal data in the framework of a particular inquiry in accordance with Union or Member State law shall not be regarded as recipients; the processing of those data by those public authorities shall be in compliance with the applicable data protection rules according to the purposes of the processing.

10) Third party

Third party is a natural or legal person, public authority, agency or body other than the data subject, controller, processor and persons who, under the direct authority of the controller or processor, are authorized to process personal data.

11) Consent

Consent of the data subject is any freely given, specific, informed and unambiguous indication of the data subject's wishes by which he or she, by a statement or by a clear affirmative action, signifies agreement to the processing of personal data relating to him or her.

§ 3 Rights of the Data subject

We take the protection of your personal data seriously and want to protect your rights. We therefore only store your personal data for as long as this is permitted by law for the purposes stated below.

The stored personal data will therefore be deleted if the storage of this data is no longer necessary to fulfil the purpose for which it was stored.

We would like to point out that the provision of your data is neither required by law nor by contract, nor is it necessary for the conclusion of a contract. However, failure to provide the data may result in you not being able to use certain functions/services on our website.

We would also like to draw your attention to your rights, in particular the right to

- Information, which data we have stored to your person;
- Rectification, should despite our efforts for correct and current data wrong data be stored with us;

- Erasure of your data, unless there is an exceptional case which entitles to further processing;
- Restriction of processing, if there is a legitimate reason for doing so;
- Object against the processing of the data;
- copy the data and, if necessary, to transmit (right to data portability) the data to other controllers;
- Revocation of your consent with effect for the future, if you have given us your consent for the processing of your data.

In all the above cases, please contact us:

§ 4 Collection of personal data, cookies and types of use

Depending on which of the functions or services of our website you use, it may be necessary to use your personal data. Your personal data will not be used for the types of use specified in this data protection declaration.

1) Informational use of the website

When using the website for information purposes only, if you do not register or otherwise provide us with information, we only collect the personal data that your browser transmits to our server. If you wish to view our website, we collect the following data, which are technically necessary for us to display our website to you and to guarantee stability and security (legal basis is Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f) GDPR):

- IP address
- Date and time of request
- Time zone difference to Greenwich Mean Time (GMT)
- Content of the request (specific page)
- Access Status/HTTP Status Code

- the amount of data transferred in each case
- Website from which the request comes
- Browser and version.

2) Cookies

We use so-called "cookies". Cookies are small text files that are sent to your browser by our web server within the framework of your visit to our website and are provided by us on your end device for later retrieval. We only use so-called Session-Cookies (also referred to as "temporary Cookies"), i.e. those that are temporarily stored exclusively for the duration of your use of one of our websites.

The cookies used serve in particular for this purpose, determine the frequency of use and the number of users of our websites and identify your end device during a visit to our website or when you switch from one of our web sites to another one and determine the end of your visit. This tells us which area of our website and which other websites our users have visited.

However, this usage data does not allow any conclusions to be drawn about the user. All of this anonymously collected usage data will not be merged with your personal data according to § 3 of this Web Privacy Policy and will be deleted immediately after the end of the statistical evaluation. At the end of the session, i.e. as soon as you stop browsing, the cookies on your device are also deleted.

- a) This website uses the following types of cookies, the scope and functioning of which are explained below:
  - Transient Cookies (see b)
- b) Transient cookies are automatically deleted when you close your browser. This includes in particular the session cookies. These store a so-called session ID, with which different requests of your browser can be assigned to the common session. This will allow your computer to be recognized when you return to our website. Session cookies are deleted when you log out or close your browser.
- c) You can configure your browser settings according to your wishes and, for example, refuse the acceptance of third party cookies or all cookies. Please note that you may not be able to use all functions of this website.

3) Contact possibility via the website

The website of the Company contains information that enables a quick electronic contact to our enterprise, as well as direct communication with us, which also includes a general address of the so-called electronic mail (e-mail address). If a data subject contacts the controller by e-mail or via a contact form, the personal data transmitted by the data subject are automatically stored. Such personal data transmitted on a voluntary basis by a data subject to the data controller are stored for the purpose of processing or contacting the data subject. There is no transfer of this personal data to third parties. We have no influence on the form of encryption when contacting us directly by e-mail.

§ 5 Legal basis for the processing

Art. 6 para. 1 lit. a) GDPR serves as the legal basis for processing operations for which we obtain consent for a specific processing purpose.

If the processing of personal data is necessary for the performance of a contract to which the data subject is party, as is the case, for example, when processing operations are necessary for the supply of goods or to provide any other service, the processing is based on Article 6 para. 1 lit. b) GDPR.

The same applies to such processing operations, which are necessary for carrying out pre-contractual measures, for example in the case of inquiries concerning our products or services. Is our company subject to a legal obligation by which processing of personal data is required, such as for the fulfillment of tax obligations, the processing is based on Art. 6 para. 1 lit. c) GDPR.

According to Article 6 para. 1 lit d)GDPR, the processing of personal data takes place when the vital interests of the data subject or another natural person are to be protected.

If the processing of personal data is based on Article 6 para. 1 lit. f)GDPR, it is in our legitimate interest to carry out our business activities.

§ 6 Period for which the personal data will be stored

The criteria used to determine the period of storage of personal data is the respective statutory retention period. After expiration of that period, the corresponding data is routinely deleted, as long as it is no longer necessary for the fulfillment of the contract or the initiation of a contract.

§ 7 Existence of automated decision-making

As a responsible company, we do not use automatic decision-making or profiling
